COMFORT. FOR US, IT'S PERSONAL.

With its StabilitySelector™ and ball-and-socket headgear attachments, the ComfortSelect™ Nasal Mask delivers the kind of secure, personalized fit that your patients demand. Its textured, dual-layer cushion design and adjustable forehead arm help deliver a comfortable fit and guard against mask leaks. It's one more example of how the Comfort Series™ of Masks helps fit 100% of your patients 100% of the time.

ComfortSelect™

ComfortSelect™

Adjustable StabilitySelector™ helps make this Comfort Series™ mask a comfortable, leak-free fit for your patients – and your business.

The ComfortSelect Nasal Mask is an ideal mask for a wide range of patients. Its adjustable StabilitySelector and soft silicone forehead pad help patients find the right fit to reduce pressure points and mask leaks – without overtightening the headgear. And once you find that perfect fit, the ComfortSelect's ball-and-socket headgear attachments make it easier to keep it – they allow you to remove the mask from the headgear without loosening the headgear straps. Once it's on, even gentle tugging will not result in mask leaks. The fit is that secure. And that makes compliance easier to come by.

We've also made sure that the ComfortSelect is a mask that you can feel secure recommending. It offers many features that have been proven popular in other Respironics masks, like its dual-layer mask cushion and silent exhalation port. ComfortSelect uses fewer mask sizes to fit the same population as comparable masks, and it has minimal parts to lose or break, both of which are particularly comforting when you have a crowded stockroom to manage.
